
Building Results:

From Wellness Goals to Positive Outcomes for

Oregon's Children, Youth, and Families

by:

Clara C. Pratt, Ph.D.
Aphra Katzev, Ph.D.
Tammy Henderson, M.S. and Rachel Ozretich, M.S.

Other Contributors:

Sally Bowman, Ph.D.
Ronald Dowd, Ph.D.
Kathryn LeBlanc, Ph.D.
William McGuigan, B.S.

Oregon State University Family Policy Program in conjunction with the OSU Extension Service Family Development and Resource Management Program prepared for:

Oregon Commission on Children and Families

April 1997

BUILDING RESULTS:

From Wellness Goals to Measurable Outcomes for Oregon's Children, Youth and Families

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Chapter 1.
INTRODUCTION: LINKING GOALS TO OUTCOMES	9
Oregon's Wellness Goals.....	11
A Model Linking Wellness Goals to Outcomes.....	12
Research Linkages: Proven Approaches & Interim Outcomes.....	13
Community Needs, Aspirations, and Resources.....	14
Contextual Factors.....	14
Indicators of Progress.....	15
Oregon Benchmarks.....	15
Performance Indicators.....	16
Input, Output, and Outcome Targets.....	18
Performance Measures.....	20
Are We Making Progress?.....	22
Summary: From Wellness Goals to Interim Outcomes.....	23
An Example: Oregon's Healthy Start Program.....	24
Chapter 2.
BEST PRACTICES TO REACH WELLNESS GOALS	29
Recognize Ecological Context.....	31
Respond to Developmental Level.....	33
Reduce Risk Processes and Increase Protective Processes.....	34
Build Developmental Assets.....	36
Respond to Diversity.....	38
Create A Continuum of Support and Care.....	41
Chapter 3.
STRONG, NURTURING FAMILIES	45
Family Diversity.....	49
Family Self-sufficiency and Access to Essential Resources.....	56
Family Access to Effective Social Support.....	65
Family Emotional Climate.....	71
Positive Parent-child Relationships.....	84
Benchmarks for Strong, Nurturing Families.....	96

		Page
Chapter 4.
NURTURING FAMILIES' SPECIAL CONCERN:
•	CHILD MALTREATMENT 97
	Reduction of Family Risk Processes.....	102
	Reduction in Maladaptive Child-Rearing Strategies.....	110
	Child Safety and Prevention Education Programs.....	118
	Advocacy and Therapeutic Interventions.....	122
	Advocacy and Coordination of Prevention and Treatment Efforts.....	125
	Benchmarks for Child Maltreatment.....	129
Chapter 5.
	HEALTHY, THRIVING CHILDREN.....	131
	Early and Comprehensive Prenatal Care.....	136
	Healthy Growth and Development.....	140
	Nurturing Responsive Care.....	148
	Safe, Supportive Environments.....	159
	Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence.....	165
	Benchmarks for Healthy, Thriving Children.....	177
Chapter 6.
	POSITIVE YOUTH DEVELOPMENT.....	179
	Supportive Communities, Neighborhoods, and Schools.....	186
	Family Support and Supervision.....	190
	Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence.....	194
	Positive View of Self and One's Future.....	199
	Benchmarks for Positive Youth Development.....	203
Chapter 7.
	POSITIVE YOUTH DEVELOPMENT SPECIAL CONCERNS.....	205
•	ALCOHOL, TOBACCO, AND OTHER DRUG USE.....	209
	Supportive Communities, Neighborhoods, and Schools.....	213
	Family Support and Supervision.....	217
	Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence.....	220
	Educational Progress and Success.....	223
	Personal Characteristics, Distress, and Life Difficulties.....	225
•	JUVENILE DELINQUENCY AND CRIME.....	228
	Supportive Communities, Neighborhoods, and Schools.....	231
	Family Support and Supervision.....	233
	Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence.....	236
	Educational Progress and Success.....	239
	Alcohol, Tobacco, and Other Drug Use.....	242
•	TEEN SEXUALITY, PREGNANCY, AND PARENTHOOD.....	243
	Sexual Responsibility.....	251
	Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence.....	258
	Effective Reproductive Health Care.....	261

Personal Distress and Sense of Future.....	266
BENCHMARKS FOR ALL YOUTH SPECIAL CONCERNS.....	271
Chapter 8.
EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS AND SUCCESS	273
Supportive School Experiences	279
Positive Peer Relationships and Social Competence	285
Family Support for Education	287
Effective School-work Transitions	293
Benchmarks for Educational Progress and Success	299
Chapter 9.
CARING COMMUNITIES AND SYSTEMS	301
OCCF Systems Goals: Wellness, Collaboration, Community Decisionmaking, and Accountability	303
Child Care for Young Children	307
Care Options for School-aged Children and Youth.....	313
Family Friendly Workplaces	321
Benchmarks for Caring Communities and Systems	327
References.....	331

Oregon State University
Family Policy Program and Family Study Center

The OSU Family Policy Program was initiated in 1993 with the generous support of Barbara D. Knudson. Housed in the College of Home Economics and Education, the program offers graduate and extended education, applied research and evaluation, and public service to advance policies to improve the well-being of individuals and families across the lifespan.

On-going research projects include identification of interim outcomes and measures for the Oregon Commission on Children and Families goals for children, youth, and families, and evaluation of Oregon's Healthy Start effort which seeks to improve the outcomes for young children through support of all families with newborns and intensive home visitation for higher risk families. The program leads several other evaluation efforts including assessments of the Oregon Youth Conservation Corps programs and of a federally funded Center for Substance Abuse Treatment program for juvenile offenders in Lane County, Oregon.

The program sponsors speakers and conferences on family policy issues, including the 1994 International Year of the Family Conference and the 1995 White House Conference on Aging Regional Conference on Intergenerational Relationships. For more information about the OSU Family Policy Program, please contact:

Clara C. Pratt, Ph.D.
B.E. Knudson Endowed Chair in Family Policy
OSU Bates Family Study Center
Corvallis, OR 97331-5151
(541) 737-1084 (voice)
(541) 737-5579 (fax)

The College of Home Economics and Education's Bates Family Study Center opened in 1991. Constructed and equipped with private gifts, the Center supports research, instruction, and service programs that benefit families. The building name, Bates Hall, recognizes the particular generosity of Mercedes A. Bates, a 1936 alumna of the College. The Center houses the Child Development Center, the Program on Gerontology, and the Family Policy Program and offers outstanding media technology and telephone survey facilities.

TITLES AND AFFILIATIONS OF CONTRIBUTORS

Lead Author:

Clara C. Pratt, Ph.D., is the Barbara E. Knudson Endowed Chair in Family Policy and Professor of Human Development and Family Sciences, Oregon State University, College of Home Economics and Education, Corvallis, Oregon.

Co-Authors:

Aphra Katzev, Ph.D., is Faculty Research Associate with the Family Policy Program, Oregon State University College of Home Economics and Education, Corvallis, Oregon.

Tammy Henderson, M.S., is a doctoral student in the Department of Human Development and Family Sciences, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon.

Rachel Ozretich, M.S., is a Faculty Research Assistant with the Family Policy Program, Oregon State University College of Home Economics and Education, Corvallis, Oregon.

Other Contributors:

Sally Bowman, Ph.D., is an Extension Specialist in Family Development and Resource Management, OSU Extension Home Economics, Corvallis, Oregon.

Ronald Dowd, Ph.D., is Professor of Public Administration, Portland State University, Portland, Oregon.

Kathryn LeBlanc, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Human Development and Family Sciences, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon.

William McGuigan, B.S., is a masters degree student in the Department of Human Development and Family Sciences, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon.

This document was patiently and ably constructed by Typing 4 U, Monroe, Oregon, (541) 424-3072.

